In This Issue: Arts of Magic

23  Mistress of Magic: Wandering Witch Dances with Katelan Foisy In which our intrepid reporter Natalie Zaman has several tête-à-têtes with an enchantress — and falls just a little bit under her spell. PLUS Simple Methods to Talk to the Dead.

33  Power to the People: Magic as a Tool for Justice Is hexing evil? Francesca De Grandis reminds us of the long history of using magic for practical purposes: and to overcome injustice.

38  Upon Reflection: Harnessing Mirrors for Protection Magic Devi Spring shares her conjure and craft techniques for protecting yourself with the power of mirror magic.

41  Curses, Hexes, and Bad Spirits: Psychic Self-Defense in Canarian Curanderismo Curanderismo is the tradition of physical and spiritual healing in most Spanish-speaking cultures. Carolina Gonzalez is a Curandera in the Canary Islands and Hex-Breaking is one of her most-requested services.

46  Post-Modern Sigilcraft In an age of Tumblr, an ancient craft has become unexpectedly popular: the practice of making magic with nothing more than a pen and paper. Steve Shanafelt discovered its power firsthand.
